NEVER MORE HARMONIOUS.

A Democratic conference and banquet, under the auspices of the Kansas Democratic State Committee, was held last week at Topeka. The meeting was in the nature of a conference of Democratic leaders, the policy of the campaign of 1900 being a subject of discussion. A large number of prominent Democrats were present. Among the speakers Mr. Bryan was given the most prominent place, his subject being "Democracy."

Mr. Bryan stood out squarely for the Chicago platform, and said that there had been no retreating from the position taken in 1896. "We are not only holding our own," he declared, "but we are gaining back those Democrats who left us without fully understanding the nature of the struggle."

"Sometimes we hear pleas for harmony from those who opposed the party in 1896," continued Mr. Bryan, "but harmony, instead of being a thing hoped for, is at least a thing realized; not a pretended harmony between those entertaining antagonistic principles, but an actual harmony between those who are united in a common purpose against a common enemy. The Democratic party was never more harmonious and its harmony can only be disturbed by admitting within the fold those who are at variance with its principles and aspirations."

"The Democratic platform of 1900 will be written by those who stood upon the platform of 1896, not by those who tried to overthrow the Democratic party in that combination. The failure which attended those who organized the gold party and wrote the Indianapolis platform ought to restrain them from proffering their services as platform makers for some years to come."

Mr. Bryan declared that even's had been vindicating the policies proposed by the Democratic party in 1896.

He then passed on to the subject of trusts and characterized them as the products of Republican methods. He gave this warning: "If the Republican party goes into the next campaign upon a platform defending trusts it will antagonize sentiments which are rapidly growing against them, even in the ranks of that party."

WEIGHING WESTERN MAILS.

The annual spring weighing of the mails has commenced. The weighing will continue for three months, and on the showing made by the roads will be determined the rate of compensation for the next four years. The mail is weighed at the starting where mail is taken on or discharged. An average is struck on the amount of mail carried and the rate is fixed on this basis. The highest rate allowable under the law is $42 a mile for 200 pounds a day. —Carson News.

The News, although correct in the details of the weighing system and its purpose, is mistaken in its statement that the quadrennial weighing is now going on. That was done last summer. The weighing season can always be recognized by the immense amount of bulky and heavy mail matter sent out from Washington during that period, in the shape of all kinds of books, like patent office reports and other equally interesting and instructive literature, which is spread broadcast throughout the country under the franks of Senators and Representatives, in the interest of the different railroad companies. Last year during the weighing season tons upon tons of that kind of matter were sent to Nevada, much of it under the frank of Senator Stewart, among which were numberless copies of agricultural reports for 1898. As the average was estimated for the succeeding four years upon those three months showing, it will be easily seen that the railroad companies are getting the best, while Uncle Sam is getting the worst of that kind of "average." If there is any difference between stopping a train and robbing the United States mail, and plundering the government by the system we have described, the train robber has far the best of it in a moral point of view, and deserves a shorter sentence than the Congressional flesh who robs the government without taking any chances of personal danger.

PARALLEL CASES.

Soon after the Mexican war the government sent a commissioner to California to adjust the claims of persons who had rendered services, furnished supplies, etc., for the army of General Fremont during the contest. An old fellow in Santa Clara, who had come to California years before and had a Spanish wife and family, put in a claim for several hundred dollars. He was a blacksmith by trade, and upon investigation it was found that his bill was for spear heads made for the use of the Mexican army. His claim wasn't allowed. It probably would have been, however, if the chief of the Silver party in Nevada had been the commissioner. At least, we so infer, from his readiness to allow the claim of political mechanics, who for years have furnished jawbone spear heads to the goldbug army with which to fight the blackball forces in the State.

The San Francisco Post says that signs of business prosperity are not confined entirely to the east. The Post is right. A man in Carson a short time ago won a $3,600 prize in the Little Louisiana lottery.

REMITTANCE.

Inyo county has 4,000 beehives, and honey is one of its most important products. These hives are owned by seventy-five persons.

The total production of Lander County mines to date is placed at $25,000,000, the bulk of which was the yield of the Manhattan at Austin.

Sheriff Watt received a letter from San Francisco yesterday stating that his mother was gaining strength, but very slowly. —Austin Reveille.

Golconda is going to organize a Board of Trade. Are the business men of Reno going to let this little burg get ahead of it in public enterprise?

A. Hanak, for many years proprietor and host of the International hotel at Virginia, has moved to San Francisco, where he will make his future home.

Charley May indignantly denies that Carson is his home, as indirectly intimated lately by a Carson paper. Charley is a full-fledged Renoite, and intends to remain so.

The editor of the Tidings will learn with a little more experience the folly of bestowing an advertising kick on every man who writes an inviting tale for a journalistic kicking.

The Southern Development Company is driving a new 500-foot tunnel into the hill at the mouth of Oory canyon in order to secure an increased water supply for Hawthorne.

The will of the late Isaac Olcovich was admitted to probate in Carson on Wednesday, and Richard Kirman and Joe Kelley appointed executors, with bonds fixed at $3,000. The widow was allowed $40 per month.

Rev. Dr. Dinmore of the San Jose Presbytery has raised the question whether young clergymen ought to marry or not. If left to the young ladies of the church we opine that there would be a unanimous shout of "Yes, verily."

Altube Bros. will start 600 head of beef cattle to the railroad to-morrow. They are consigned to the Western Meat Market at San Francisco. Some trouble is anticipated in reaching the railroad on account of the deep snow. —Times-Review.

A Carson valley girl who is the least mite fleshy and getting more so, says that expansion is the fate of the times and that she is right up to date. She is pretty and vivacious, but we wouldn't give you her name for a homestead in the Philippines. —Courier.

J. Peers, the Public Administrator of Washoe county, Nevada, is in town this week, having come to attend to matters relating to the estate of John Cratty, deceased. He is accompanied by A. J. Maestretti, one of Washoe county's able attorneys. —Cedarville Record.

Twenty tons of potatoes have been raised to the acre on the Hill ranch in Lovelock valley. Potatoes are selling at $50 a ton, which would give $1,000 for a year's use of an acre of this land. When such land can be had for $50 an acre how long will it take to pay for a farm? —Silver State.

The resources of Nevada are being developed. M. O. Oswald of Elko has constructed a guitar from materials produced in this State—maple, mountain mahogany and spruce pine. The Tidings says the instrument is perfect in every detail and of tone, and is superior to the highest priced guitars of foreign manufacture.

Persens having Piute war claims against the government will do well to heed the notice of Miss Georgia J. Johnson, which will be found elsewhere in these columns. Miss Johnson is an energetic lady with extraordinary business qualifications and will succeed in pushing the claims, with which she may be entrusted, to the payment point, if within the bounds of human possibility. The JOURNAL takes pleasure in recommending her to persons having such demands against the government.

Rather Sarcastic.

The following significant item appears in the Carson News: "Lieutenant-Governor Judge has returned to his home in California." He is the man the last legislature gave a salary of $1,800 a year to keep in the State. The Governor should call an extra session of the legislature to pay his expenses while visiting his California home. The taxpayers wouldn't care, because Mr. Judge is such a nice fellow and so necessary to the welfare of the State. —Elko Independent.

Samoan Islands.

The Samoan question is occupying the attention of three of the greatest powers in the world. An insignificant spot of the earth's surface is causing trouble that these powers find is serious. All of which, it appears, was brought about by the headstrong stupidity of one man, whose self importance seems to have been boundless and whose idiotic course has caused the death of some of the best soldiers of America and England.

DOLPH SHANE - - Proprietor. Aptlft.

A certain noted artist long ago, having made a faithful bust of a sinner, found his work declined on account of its ugliness, the subject refusing to believe it was a good likeness.

"Very well," said the artist. "You deny the likeness and refuse to take the bust, and I accept the excuse."

He accordingly set up the bust in his studio, surrounded by a small, card paper prison, gloomily painted over, on which was inscribed, "For Debt." The portrait was so unmistakable that everybody in town recognized it and flocked to the artist's studio to enjoy his ingenious revenge. Soon the subject came, passionately complaining of the ridicule to which he had been subjected.

"You, sir!" said the sculptor. "Who knows this ugly bust to be yours? There is no name upon it, and you have utterly denied its resemblance. It is my work, and I have a right to do as I will with it."

"Oh, but I will pay you the price and take it away!"

"But it has become so valuable to me by attracting the public that I cannot part with it for less than twice my original charge."

"Well, I will take it at that price." And so the sculptor's debtor got himself out of prison. —New York Times.

The Best Way to Sample Whisky.

One of the best judges of whisky in Chicago is a man who never drinks it. He is Captain Joseph E. G. Ryan, formerly of the Seventh.

Captain Ryan is a whisky expert. He can tell almost to a day the age of any sample submitted to him. Give him a few drops of whisky, and he can tell you the brand, the distiller, where it was made, when, and detect adulteration if there is any. Blend two or three kinds of whisky, and he can tell the blend.

And he never tastes it, being strictly temperate in all his habits.

It is all told by the smell. Captain Ryan's nose is a very sensitive organ and he has trained it with the utmost care.

"Smelling is by far the most satisfactory method of testing," he says. "If a man has a great deal to sample, and tastes each kind, he soon gets so that he cannot distinguish one from the other. The sense of taste becomes blunted, and he loses all the fine distinctions."

"On the other hand, the more a man uses his nose the more acute the sense of smell becomes, and he is able to detect the slightest difference between samples." —Chicago Journal.

The Obvious.

In the meanwhile there had come among them another the purpose of whose thought it was to eliminate the esoteric from the obvious.

"In hard times," mused this person, "the people talk of nothing but the money question!"

"Well, it is then they have no money to speak of!" retorted the unconscious imbecile, thus revealing his identity. —Detroit Journal.

Packages by Post.

Practically all the packages that go through the New York postoffice are examined. Many persons seem utterly unable to resist the temptation to scribble a message upon the back of a photograph or the lid of a box. A written dedication in a book or a written greeting, such as the conventional "Merry Christmas," is allowable, but, with these exceptions, any written word makes a package liable to letter postage. The whole fly leaf of a book may be filled with a dedicatory note, but any other words, as, for instance, "See Page 4," would cause the package to be classed as written matter.

Another common error is to put sealing wax on the knot of the string around the package. Such a package is classed as "sealed against inspection" and must pay letter rates. The same rule applies to boxes that have their lids nailed or tacked on. The amount of money collected for insufficient postage is surprising. The average receipts in this department of the postoffice are $200 a day. —Leslie's Weekly.

The Market in Cauls.

We believe that there is still some market for caul among sailors, who retain their belief in the efficacy of the membranes as a protection against shipwreck and drowning. Notices of "Cauls For Sale Within" were to be seen recently in windows in the vicinity of the docks of both London and Liverpool, but it is some time since we have noticed an advertisement of a caul for sale in the daily press. It may be remarked that the sale of cauls, so far from being a very ancient custom, is a comparatively modern innovation. The witchcraft of the middle ages declared against the caul retaining any virtue whatever if parted with by gift or sale to any but a member of the child's kindred. —London Lancet.

Cautious Conscience.

Miss Feeneker—Oh, baron, I would so much like to hear you tell again about how King Ludwig presented you with a decoration when you were a mere little shaver, and—

The Baron Barberossa—A leetle shaver! I did not shave any one ven I was leetle. I did not learn my trade until —(recollecting himself)—dot is—I did not learn a trade at all. —Harlem Life

"The Coming Age." Students of metaphysical, philosophical, and the higher religious thought of the time will find much of interest in the April number of The Coming Age. Mr. Charles Malloy's interpretation of Emerson's two little poems, "The Amulet" and "Rabies," is a fine and fascinating piece of work. Henry Wood's historical sketch entitled "The King's Touch," calls attention in an entertaining way to the astounding results, which, according to the leading physicians and sober historians followed the touch of the kings of France and England so long as the divine right idea held sway over the minds of the people. Mr. Ralph Waldo Trine discusses "Humane Education for the Young." Mrs. C. K. Reifensider's installment of authentic dreams and visions will also prove very attractive to students of psychical sciences.

Nevada Potatoes.

It is reported that Nevada potatoes are greatly in demand this year and the demand exceeds the supply. A few ranchers who have potatoes on hand are holding them at $46 per ton. In Elko county very few farmers raise more than enough for their own use and many of them have to buy potatoes to plant in the spring. There is money in potatoes and has been for the last four years, but our farmers are afraid of "over production" and the consequence is they are hundreds of dollars out of pocket every year, while the farmers of Utah and other States ship their potatoes to Nevada and California and are hundreds of dollars better off.—Wells Herald.

Grip's Ravages Doomed.

So much misery and so many deaths have been caused by the Grip, that every one should know what a wonderful remedy for this malady is found in Dr. King's New Discovery. That distressing stubborn cough, that inflames your throat, robs you of sleep, weakens your system and paves the way for consumption is quickly stopped by this matchless cure. If you have chills and fever, pain in the back of the head, soreness in bone and muscles, sore throat and that cough that grips your throat like a vice, you need Dr. King's New Discovery to cure your Grip, and prevent Pneumonia or Consumption.

Price 50 cents and $1.00. Money back if not cured. A trial bottle free at S. J. Hodgkinson's.

No Wonder.

The Silver State says it will surprise the Nevadans to learn that millions of people of the east do not know that cattle are raised in Nevada. If the editor of the Silver State will read the assessors' report in the last report of the Surveyor General of Nevada he will get over his surprise. According to this official document Esmeralda, Humboldt and White Pine counties had the only stock cattle in the State. The rest of the counties had none. If many of these reports have been scattered through the east, the cause of the ignorance of the people there can be easily explained. What does the Silver State think about it?—Elko Independent.

Civil Service Rules.

A circular letter has been issued by the powers at Washington regarding civil service. The only portion of interest to Carson is that all mint employees on the payroll on April 10, 1899, with the exception of the cashier, chief clerk, assistant master and refiner and coiner will remain.

This is not taken to mean that these officers will necessarily be removed, but the administration recognizes the right of the Superintendent to have his chief officers of his own choosing.—Carson News.

The Place to Go.

This is the time of the year when everybody is cleaning, papering and painting their houses. When you have work of that description to let out you most assuredly want it done by first class workmen. The Porteous Decorative Co. employ none but reliable workmen. They also carry a complete stock of the latest styles of wall paper, paints, oils and window glass. If you try Porteous once, it's a sure thing you will go there again. Read the double column ad. in this issue and govern yourself accordingly.

No Use for Relations.

The Nevada City Transcript says of the fugitive murderer Moore: It has been ascertained that a brother of Moore's father lives in the State of Nevada, it being believed he is a farmer on the Humboldt river. Some months ago he sent word to Ed by a Nevada City man he met on a C. P. train that he would like to have his nephew visit him. The latter remarked upon getting the message that he had no use for his relations.

Go and See It.

I have all the latest patterns in golf and negligee shirts, in silks and madras cloths.

I am pleased to announce that I have secured the agency of the Wheeler overall, famous on this Coast as being the best fitting and most durable overall on the market. It is riveted, triple-sewed and made of the heaviest and best denim. Try a pair and be convinced.

Free employment office in connection with the store.

ALFRED NELSON.

Feeding in Transit.

The trans-Missouri lines have issued an order that removes the feeding in transit privilege which for many years has been accorded shippers of stock. The order, if it be enforced, goes into effect May 25th. The privilege was originally given to permit the stock of the west to be brought to the corn of Kansas and Nebraska. It became very popular. Now, it is alleged by the stockmen, the railroad companies see that the taking of stock to the corn cuts the railroads off from a source of revenue formerly enjoyed when they took the corn to the stock. On this account the attempt is being made to take away the privilege. Stockmen are unanimously opposed to the new order and they will bring all the influence in their power to have it rescinded.

Remarkable Rescue.

Mrs. Michael Curtin, Plainfield, Ill., makes the statement, that she caught cold, which settled on her lungs; she was treated for a month by her family physician, but grew worse. He told her she was a hopeless victim of consumption and that no medicine could cure her. Her druggist suggested Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption she bought a bottle and to her delight found herself benefited from first dose. She continued its use and after taking six bottles, found herself sound and well; now does her own housework and is as well as she ever was. Free trial bottle of this Great Discovery at S. J. Hodgkinson's Drug Store. Large bottles 50 cents and $1.00.

Owl Club Leaves for Virginia.

The recently founded social organization of Reno known as the Owl Club, departed for Virginia City last evening on their special chartered train. About sixty of our well known young men and women made up the party. They went to attend the great "coon" ball which was held in the Comstock town last night. No stops were to be made en route, and good spirits and merriment were everywhere apparent in the party when the train left Reno at five o'clock last evening. The party returned about the same time this morning.

For Over Fifty Years.

Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup has been used by millions of mothers for their children when teething. If disturbed at night and broken of your rest by a sick child suffering and crying with pain of cutting teeth, send at once and get a bottle of Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething. It will relieve the poor little sufferer immediately. Depend upon it mothers there is no mistake about it. It cures Diarrhoea, regulates the Stomach and Bowels, cures Wind Colic, softens the gums, reduces inflammation and gives Tone and Energy to the whole system. Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup for children teething is pleasant to the taste and is the prescription of one of the oldest and best female physicians and nurses in the United States. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold by all druggists throughout the world. Be sure and ask for "Mrs. Winslow's Soothing Syrup."

Piute War Claims.

To whom it may concern: I am prepared to collect from the United States government the claims allowed by the appropriation bill which passed Congress March 3, 1899, for the payment of moneys expended by citizens of Nevada during the Piute war.

All beneficiaries of this bill or their heirs are invited to correspond with me at an early date, as I expect to leave for Washington by May 1st. Address: GEORGIA J. JOHNSON, Attorney-at-law, U. S. government building, Carson, Nev. ap15td

Good Advertising Town.

It has been stated that John Walter of the London Times left as a legacy to his daughter one of the advertising columns of the Thunderer. It brought the lady a steady income of $150 a day.—Exchange.

One hundred and fifty dollars per day profit on a single column! That's more than some of the Nevada papers are making out of their entire advertising space. Brethren, let's all move to London.

Card of Thanks.

The undersigned desire to thank the many friends who so kindly assisted them during their late bereavement in the loss of their beloved son. Ma. and Mrs. L. VOEL.

BREVITIES.

Dan Wheeler has returned from Mason Valley.

Senator Flanigan went to Lovelock yesterday morning.

Dr. J. E. Stubbs departed for Lovelock yesterday morning.

Sheep-shearing is the chief Nevada industry at the present time.

George S. Nixon of the Silver State has gone to Chicago on a business trip. Alvaro Evans went to Sacramento yesterday morning with a shipment of cows.

Dr. Huffaker passed through here from the west yesterday morning for Carson.

The News says C. C. Wallace contemplates making his permanent residence at Carson.

The Twenty-first Infantry will pass through Reno this morning, en route to the Philippines.

Fourth of July is coming on space. Isn't it about time for something to be done about a celebration?

Bob Grimmon of the Arlington hotel in Carson was a passenger yesterday morning for San Francisco.

The force of employees in the railroad shops at Wadsworth has been largely increased, now numbering 150.

It is rumored that work is to be resumed in the famous Ontario mine at Park City, Utah, at an early date.

A strike of high grade silver ore has been made on the Oriental and Belmont mine on Adams Hill, in Esmeralda county.

The question as to whether there was an election held in Washoe county last November is being reconsidered by the Supreme Court.

A jury has been secured to try the two men arrested for robbing the Central Pacific train at Humboldt last July, and the trial was begun Thursday at Winnemucca.

To Help the Mint.

A short time ago Mr. H. M. Yerington of this city wrote a letter to Senator Jones, asking him to make a special effort on behalf of the Carson Mint, and giving him important data that he could use as an argument for its maintenance as a mining concern, or as it is at present at least.

This morning the reply came, in which Senator Jones says he will do all in his power to accomplish what Mr. Yerington suggests, and will have a personal interview with the President at the first opportunity, and that he is not without hope of success.—Carson News.

Captain Neall's Case.

Crit Thornton, private secretary for Governor Bradley during his first term, is attorney for Jack Neall at the court martial proceedings. One of the points of the defence was the nervous condition of Captain Neall for some time previous to the shortage. The report of Thursday's Examiner contained the evidence of Lieutenant Harris, Adjutant at the Presidio, which was damaging to the accused, who was charged with deception by the witness and falsehoods when spoken to by him about the exchange funds.

Will Move to Como.

Colonel E. D. Boyle and family will shortly move to Como, where the Colonel will devote his entire attention to his extensive mining property interests in that district. Colonel Boyle, during his long residence on the Comstock, has made a host of friends who will sincerely regret his departure. His wife, who has been prominently identified with the social history of Gold Hill, will also be missed. It is not known who will succeed to the superintendency of the Alta.—Report.

MEETING OF CREDITORS.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT OF THE United States for the District of Nevada In the Matter of In Bankruptcy M. Nathan, Bankrupt.

To the creditors of M. Nathan of Reno, in the county of Washoe, and district aforesaid, a bankrupt:

Notice is hereby given that on the 25th day of March, A. D. 1899, the said M. Nathan was duly adjudicated bankrupt; and that the first meeting of his creditors will be held at the office of the Attorney at Law, and Secretary of the Court, in the city of Reno, on the 25th day of April, A. D. 1899, at 10 o'clock in the forenoon, at which time the said creditors may attend, prove their claims, appoint a trustee, and transact such other business as may properly come before said meeting.

E. D. VANDELIN, Referee in Bankruptcy.

Carson, April 1, 1899.

DISSOLUTION OF COPARTNERSHIP.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT the partnership heretofore existing between Alex Ayres and Omar Ayres under the firm name and style of Alex Ayres & Son, was on the first day of January, 1899, dissolved by mutual consent, and the interest of Omar Ayres therein was on the said first day of January, 1899, sold to Alex Ayres. Omar Ayres retiring from the said firm, and all debts due to and from said firm are to be paid to and by the said Alex Ayres.

ALEX AYRES, OMAR AYRES, 4w

Reno, March 15th, 1899.

ASSESSMENT NOTICE.

NOTICE IS HEREBY GIVEN THAT AT a meeting of the stockholders of the Spanish Springs Valley Ditch Company at the office of the Secretary in Reno, Nevada, February 25, 1899, an assessment of two and a half dollars ($2 50) per share was levied upon each and every share of the capital stock of said company, payable immediately to the Secretary. Any stock upon which this assessment shall remain unpaid on the 25th day of April, 1899, shall be deemed delinquent, and may be advertised and sold to pay such delinquent assessment, cost of advertising and expense of sale.

R. S. OSBURN, Secretary.

Reno, March 1, 1899.

The Magician and the King.

There is a good story told of a magician who has passed the great divide. He was a world traveler, and his wanderings set him upon one occasion in faraway New Zealand. It was arranged that he should give an exhibition of mind reading before the king of the Maoris. After some parleying it was decided that the king himself should conceal the article which the magician was to discover.

The mind reader left the room and, after a time, was brought back blindfolded, as is the custom in such performances. After some time the magician declared that the hidden article was in the king's mouth. His majesty shook his head savagely in the negative. The magician insisted upon his point and demanded that the king's mouth be opened wide. The king refused.

The magician insisted, and the excitement became very great until at last the dusky king reluctantly opened his jaws. The article was not there! The next instant, however, the king was taken with a violent fit of coughing. He had tried to swallow the lost article, a button, but could not, and was compelled to cough it up.

The Maoris were uproarious with mirth. They did not know which to admire the more—the wisdom of the magician or the heroism of the king.—London Globe.

Heat and Fuel Savers.

How long are you going to "get along" with that old cookstove that burns more fuel than a furnace and heats the outdoors more than it does the oven?

A very little money will buy one of our cookstoves—you'll save the price in fuel in one season. It will keep the heat where it ought to be, and cook your food as it ought to be cooked. Come in and examine them.

"Come Here, Sir!"

It was during evening "prep." Jones minor was always getting into mischief, and the master had his eye on him in consequence.

"Jones minor, you're talking," said he suddenly.

"Yes, sir," replied Jones, meekly.

"What were you saying?" Pause.

"Well, I'm waiting. What was it you said?"

"Come here and I'll tell you, sir," answered Jones.

We stared aghast at our companion, and wondered what would happen next. The master looked as if he had not heard right.

"What did you say?" he said, slowly.

"Come here and I'll tell you, sir," ventured Jones again.

We were on the tip of expectation, such daring as this was unparalleled, even for Jones. The master rose from his chair. His anger was terrible to see. "Leave the room!" he thundered, striding toward the trembling culprit.

"Why, sir?" faltered Jones.

"Why, sir?" spluttered the irate pedagogue. "When I ask you what you were talking about you ask me to come to you and you'll tell me! Why, indeed!"

"Yes, sir. But that's really what I did say," the boy replied. "Mobbs asked me what the exercise was, and I said, 'Come here and I'll tell you.'"

Then the band played.—Buffalo News.

A Siamese Swell.

One of my neighbors was an interesting creature, and evidently well pleased with himself. He wore long finger nails, and seeing me look at him spread out his left hand, evidently for my admiration. On the fourth finger he wore a large Chinese ring, and all the nails were long, particularly those of the fourth and fifth fingers, which had grown to a length of at least an inch. They looked like huge claws, especially when he tried to pick up anything from the seat. The owners of such nails regard them with extreme satisfaction and cultivate them so carefully that they sometimes attain a prodigious length.

They are largely affected by Siamese and Chinese clerks who fancy themselves exquisites. They are supposed to indicate the fact that their owners do no manual work. Curiously enough, in so far off a place as Mexico, the same idea exists, but there it is generally confined to the little finger. I do not know what else he had to be proud about unless it was his right leg, which was elaborately tattooed above the knee. He was dressed in only a panting, and to a cord around his waist was attached a wallet for his tobacco, betel nut, etc. He also carried some food wrapped in a piece of green plantain leaf.—Gentleman's Magazine.

Climate and Consumption.

I am in favor of treating tuberculous patients near their homes and in the same or nearly the same climate as that in which they will have to live and work after their restoration to health. My reasons for advocating such principles are founded on the experiences of all modern phthisis-therapeutists, who have demonstrated that the hygienic and dietetic treatment in special sanitariums is feasible and successful in nearly all climates.

I know from personal observation that cures of pulmonary tuberculosis effected in our ordinary home climates, which are on the average not considered as especially favorable to this class of sufferers, have been more lasting and more assured than cures obtained in more genial climates.

And, with all due deference to the opinions of others, I do not believe there exists any climate which has a special curative quality for any form of pulmonary tuberculosis. Climate can only be considered as a more or less valuable adjunct in the treatment of consumption, but not a specific.—S. A. Knopf, M. D., in North American Review.

Didn't Lose Any Sleep.

Jenner, the famous English physician, was essentially a strong and self-reliant man. He attended the prince consort through his fatal illness, he was the Prince of Wales' doctor when the heir to the British throne had so narrow an escape in 1873, and he also went to Darmstadt and remained in attendance upon the Princess Alice till she died. To practice medicine in "the fierce light that beats upon a throne" is not calculated to lessen the physician's anxieties, and one who knew Jenner well once questioned him on this point and hinted that his responsibilities must sometimes be sufficient to render sleep or rest impossible.

"Sleep," replied Jenner in his characteristic way. "I don't think that anxiety about a patient ever kept me awake five minutes in my life. I go to a bedside. I do my best. What more can I do? Why should I not sleep?"

Paper Bath Robes.

The latest use for paper, according to a German technical paper, is for the production of bath robes. The material used for this purpose is somewhat thick and resembles common blotting paper. The bath robes made of this material cling to the body immediately after being put on, and as the paper takes up the moisture very eagerly, the drying of the body takes place rapidly. Furthermore, the paper is a bad conductor of heat, and as such it acts as a protection against quick changes of the temperature, preventing the wearer from catching cold. Slippers and hoods are also made of the same material.—Paper
